

The Quotable Ahole

More Than 1,200 Bitter Barbs, Cutting Comments, and Caustic Comebacks...for Aspiring and Armchair Aholes Alike

Eric Grzymkowski

What's the story?

"Me think'st thou art a general offence and every man should beat thee."

—William Shakespeare

If the excess of tabloids and gossip websites (not to mention our ongoing obsession with Charlie Sheen) is any indication, there's nothing people love—or love to hate—more than an ahole.

Enter The Quotable Ahole: More Than 1,200 Bitter Barbs, Cutting Comments, and Caustic Comebacks...for Aspiring and Armchair Aholes Alike (Adams Media, a division of F+W Media, Inc.; Oct. 2011) from bestselling humor writer and veteran ahole Eric Grzymkowski. With more than 1,200 of the most cutting comments and scathing comebacks ever uttered, from repeat offenders like Donald Trump and Winston Churchill to surprising figures like Mother Teresa and Shakespeare, this hilarious collection contains each and every over-confident, over-the-top, below-the-belt comment readers will ever need to know!

What's does it mean for your audience?

Whether they're looking to join the ranks of these irreverent aholes, or just laugh in shock at the outrageous things the world's most famous figures have gotten away with saying, The Quotable Ahole is every reader's ultimate guide to history's most caustic quotes, biting comments, and downright nasty remarks:

- "'Be yourself' is about the worst advice you can give some people." --Thomas L. Masson, American Author
- "Jesus said, 'Love one another.' He didn't say love the whole world." --Mother Teresa
- "He was a great patriot, a humanitarian, a loyal friend--provided, of course, that he really is dead." --Voltaire, French Philosopher
- "People say conversation is a lost art; how often I have wished it were." – Edward R. Murrow
- "People think it must be fun to be a super genius, but they don't realize how hard it is to put up with all the idiots in the world." —Calvin, Calvin and Hobbes

So move over Hallmark—no one really cares about all those saccharine sweet musings— aholes are so much more entertaining!
